

HALLUX VALGUS NIGHT SPLINT

A plastic sling which holds the foot in the correct position during the night, soothing the pain through the pressure which it exerts on the bunion, and preventing a possible worsening. The traction must be carried out so that the correction on the deformation of the toe is visible.

The corrector is acting effectively when the articulation is acting effectively when the articulation at the base of the big toe, on being pressed, experiences a slight pain.

The night bindings favour a gradual correction of deviation in the toes, following the principle of preventive bindings (prolonged action but of slight intensity) through which a progressive improvement is achieved until the soft parts and articulations are normalized without damaging them. It must be remembered that the articulation should not be forced in such a way that the pain prevents one from resting properly. It is supplied in pairs, both can be used on the same foot.

METHOD CARRÉ - TREATMENT PACK FOR INGROWING TOE NAILS

Treatment pack for ingrowing toenails:

- Effective:The pain disappears instantly. The wound cicatrizes and the swelling disappears in few days. If used during enough time after the healing occurs, it eliminates the possibility of relapse.
- Non aggressive:The preceding methods were based in modifying the nail's natural anatomy, either by deforming it during treatment or by totally or partially Suppressing it (surgical methods). The present method does not alter neither the nail nor any of the adjacent tissues.
- No Glues: No potentially harmful chemicals needed. The device can be easily removed anytime when necessary.
- It goes unnoticed:Its size and placement make it hardly visible, even when bare.

Easy positioning: For the easiest introduction of the canula into the channel of the ingrown nail, it is essential to use a fine-pointed pincer (of the type used for thorns).
